ARTIST OF THE WEEK: CULTTASTIC, UKRAINE'S ELECTRO GYMNAST

By Halley Bondy
November 8, 2011

We applaud Culttastic's worldly ways. With just a few singles and a cover of "Teach Me How to Dougie" to her name, the gymnast/figure skater-turned-electropop-solo-producer already has influences that span the globe — from her home country Ukraine to J-pop to witch house to her current locale, Houston. Let's just say...she's flexible.

And after some impassioned voting, she is also our Artist of the Week. Congratulations, Culttastic! Be sure to stay tuned for a Q&A....
